No. $\frac{112}{111}$ of 1917.

FROM

THE HON'BLE SIR ELLIOT GRAHAM COLVIN, K.C.S.I.,

Chief Commissioner, Ajmer-Merwara,

To

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA IN THE FOREIGN AND POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

Dated Abu, the 11th January 1917.

SIR,

I have the honour to submit the Annual Administration Report of Ajmer-Merwara for the year 1915-1916 compiled by the Commissioner, Mr. C. C. Watson, C.I.E., I.C.S., with my remarks thereon.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

E. G. COLVIN,

Chief Commissioner, Ajmer-Merwara.

Remarks by the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioner, Ajmer-Merwara.

- 1. The year 1915-1916 was marked by a very feeble monsoon in Ajmer-Merwara, the rainfall being about one-third only of the normal. Owing, however, to the good rabi harvest of the preceding year revenue collections amounted to Rs. 3,01,403 against Rs. 3,10,083 in 1914-1915. The provisional remissions finally confirmed after the close of the year under report amounted to Rs. 1,06,608.
- 2. The total Imperial receipts were Rs. 9,92,634 and total Imperial expenditure Rs. 10,15,572.
- 3. There was a further decrease, though a small one, in the area of agricultural land transferred by sale. The Land Alienation Regulation continued to have a marked effect in this direction.
- 4. The new water-works at Bhaonta proved their value by saving the city of Ajmer from a water famine.
- 5. The rainfall in October saved the district from actual famine, but there was a severe shortage of grass everywhere and in Merwara it was found necessary to maintain relief works from September to 31st March, although the case was declared to be one of "scarcity" not "famine" and the works were maintained as test works.

Every facility was given for the import of grass, including concession rates in the freight of fodder, which were introduced in September 1915, and remained in force till the end of the year. A considerable amount of grass was also imported at the expense of Government to five depôts specially opened for that purpose. These measures together with emigration of cattle, resulted in saving large numbers of cattle, and practically all the plough cattle.

- 6. The Co-operative Credit system weathered the bad season with remarkable success. No effort was made to extend its operations, but it lost no ground, and with the prospects of a good season ahead, should make large strides next year and a considerable portion of the large balances outstanding should be recovered. The Societies spent no less than Rs. 1,11,223 on purchase of seed and manure and Rs. 74,468 on purchase of fodder. Sums of Rs. 8,310 and Rs. 10,201 were expended on "payment of old debts" and "redemption of land" respectively.
- 7. Education figures show slight but steady progress throughout the year, and the opening of 10 new Vernacular Schools is a satisfactory item.
- 8. The war was responsible for a considerable drop, over Rs. 35,000, in the receipts from country spirits.
- 9. The Pushkar Fair and the Tejaji Fairs at Beawar and Kekri had to be abandoned owing to the scarcity of fodder and water.

E. G. COLVIN,

Chief Commissioner, Ajmer-Merwara.

7th December 1916.

REPORT

ADMINISTRATION OF AJMER-MERWARA

FOR

SECTION I.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION.

- 1. The office of Commissioner, Ajmer-Merwara, was held by Mr. A. T. Personnel. Holme, I.C.S., from 1st April 1915 to 28th October 1915 and thereafter by Mr. C. C. Watson, C.I.E., I.C.S. The office of Additional District and Sessions Judge was held throughout the year by Diwan Bahadur Munshi Damodar Lal.
- 2. The appointment of Assistant Commissioner, Ajmer-Merwara, was held by Mr. L. G. L. Evans, I.C.S., from 1st April to 10th May 1915 and thereafter by Mr. H. C. Greenfield, I.C.S.
- 3. Munshi Phul Chand, Extra Assistant Commissioner, Ajmer, remained on leave throughout the year. Rai Sahib Munshi Gopi Nath öfficiated as Extra Assistant Commissioner, Ajmer, from 1st April to 2nd July 1915 and Munshi Shanker Lal from 3rd July 1915 to the end of the year.
- 4. Rai Sahib Pandit Brij Jiwan Lal continued to hold the appointment of Extra Assistant Commissioner, Merwara.
- 5. The post of Sub-Divisional Officer, Kekri, was held by Munshi Bhagwati Lal from 1st April 1915 to 1st July 1915, by Munshi Ram Charan Das from 2nd July 1915 to 31st January 1916, and by Munshi Maharaj Swarup from 1st February 1916 to the end of the year.
- 6. Lieutenant-Colonel R. C. Macwatt, F.R.C.S., I.M.S., C.I.E., continued in the office of Civil Surgeon and Mr. S. T. Hollins in that of Superintendent of Police, Ajmer-Merwara, throughout the year.
- 7. The total revenue (Imperial and local) of Ajmer-Merwara for the Revenue and year amounted to Rs. 15,08,790 as compared with Rs. 16,33,824 last year and expenditure. the total expenditure was Rs. 15,82,656 as against Rs. 20,00,810.

 (Vide statement No. 42.)

8. Imperial revenue rose from Rs. 9,83,432 in the year 1914-15 to Rs. 9,92,634 in the year under report, while the expenditure fell from Rs. 13,66,939 in the preceding year to Rs. 10,15,572 in 1915-16.

- 9. There was still a deficit of Rs. 22,938 in the Imperial revenue in 1915-16, as compared with a deficit of Rs. 3,83,507 in the preceding year.
- 10. The deficit was principally due to variations in the revenue and expenditure under the following heads:—

,		Re	ceipts.			$\mathbf{Rs.}$
1. Excise	•		, •	•	•	-35,918
2. Assessed t	axes			•	• '	+16,348
2. Interest	•		• *			+20,971
4. Law and	Justice	(Cou	rts of I	aw)	•	+11,484

			Expend	liture.	R_s .
1.	Interest .			•	+13,982
2.	Miscellaneous		•		-37,603
3.	Famine Relie	f.			-2,31,166

- 11. The decrease in receipts under the head of "Excise" is due partly to the high prices of food grains and partly to a local reduction in Ajmer, Nasirabad and Deoli owing to the removal of troops.
- 12. Under the head "Assessed Taxes," the increase is due to the fact that the arrears of the previous year and the demand of the year under report were recovered in full.
- 13. The increase under the head "Interest" is due to larger recoveries of interest on Demi and Taccavi loans. The rise under head "Law and Justice (Courts of Law)" is due to heavier fines being recovered than in the previous year.
- 14. No irrecoverable taccavi loans were written off as in the year 1914-15, which accounts for the decrease under the head "Miscellaneous." The fall under the head "Famine Relief" was due to the fact that Government were not required, as in the previous year, to pay to the Railways the cost of special concession rates on fodder.

SECTION II.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE LAND.

COURT OF WARDS.

(Year ending the 31st July 1916.)

- 15. The charge of the office of General Manager, Court of Wards, Ajmer, Tenure of Office. was held during the whole of the year under report by Mr. J. A. de Souza.

 16. The monsoon rainfall from 1st June 1915 to 30th October 1915 Agricultural
- 16. The monsoon rainfall from 1st June 1915 to 30th October 1915 Agricultural averaged only from 4 inches to 11 inches as against the normal rainfall of aspect. 21 inches. The deficiency in the rainfall resulted in an almost total failure of the kharif crop on barani lands except in the Kekri circle where a fall of 2 to 5 inches in the first week of October saved a fair proportion of the crop; the crop on irrigated and abi lands was very restricted in area and did not produce more than 6 annas in the rupee.
- 17. The rabi crop was assisted to some extent by the rainfall in the first week of October, but owing to the limited supply of water in wells and tanks and the absence of winter rains, the area sown was below ½th of the average. Unfortunately the greater proportion of the early crop was also affected by frost and the average outturn did not exceed 6 to 8 annas in the rupee.
- 18. The most serious factor in the unfavourable agricultural situation was the scarcity of fodder, which was very acute and necessitated the removal of all, except plough cattle, to pastures in Central India.
- 19. The action of Government in allowing concession rates on carriage of fodder by rail has been successful in preserving a large proportion of the plough cattle and saving the cultivators from the loss of their most indispensable form of capital. The concession enabled the cultivators to obtain grass and fodder at rates from Re. 1 to Re. 1-4 per maund, whereas before the concession was granted, the rates of fodder averaged 16 to 20 seers per rupee.
- 20. It was not found necessary to provide relief works in any of the estates except Masuda, Rajgarh, and Jharwasa where work on roads and tanks was provided for those who required relief besides grant of Taccavi advances. In the remaining estates the situation was met by the advance of Taccavi loans. The rents are mostly recovered in kind, and hence it was not necessary to grant remissions and suspensions of revenue to any large extent.
 - 21. The year commenced with 15 estates under management, namely:— Estates under (1) Masuda (2) Kalahera Bogla (3) Goela (4) Basundni (5) Kanai management.

SECTION III.

PROTECTION.

(I) AJMER-MERWARA POLICE (YEAR ENDING THE 31ST DECEMBER 1915).

Compiled by L. M. Kaye, Esq., Inspector-General of Police, Ajmer-Merwara.

Vide Statements, Nos. 4 to 10. 44. Mr. L. B. Goad held the office of Superintendent of Police in Ajmer-Merwara from January 1st to March 23rd, when his services were placed at the disposal of the Hyderabad State. Mr. S. T. Hollins assumed charge of that office, on his arrival from the United Provinces, on March 26th and continued in that post up to the close of the year. Mr. J. G. Hogan, Assistant Superintendent, Ajmer-Merwara Police, officiated as Superintendent for the two days which intervened between Mr. Goad's departure and Mr. Hollins' arrival.

INCREASE AND DECREASE IN REPORTED COGNIZABLE CRIME.

45. The total volume of cognizable crime reported in 1915, including true cases reported to magistrates and all cases reported to the police, was 4,110 as against 5,145 in 1914 and 4,903 in 1913. The principal variations in the figures of the last two years are shown in the table given below:—

					1914.			1915.

- 46. A scrutiny of these figures shows that, while cognizable crime, as a whole, has decreased by approximately one-fourth, reports to the police increased by nearly S per cent. A further comparison shows that considerably over four-fifths of the total decrease fell among cases in class VI.
- 47. The increase in reports to the police may safely be ascribed to the economic conditions of Ajmer-Merwara in 1915. Not only did prices rule very high throughout the year, but the failure of the 1915 monsoon, which resulted in the entire absence of fodder almost throughout the district and in a very restricted area being brought under cultivation, had a marked effect on those forms of crime which are influenced by the prosperity or poverty of the lower classes.
- 48. The decrease in magisterial cases calls for more than passing notice. A reference to the crime statements for the year 1913 shows that the sum total of magisterial cases for that year was 515. The number of such cases increased to 1,028 for the year 1914, and the main cause of that increase was unwonted activity on the part of magistrates during that year in instituting prosecutions for offences against the sanitary laws. The exhaustion following such unwonted activity is, no doubt, mainly responsible for the drop in the magisterial figures but two other contributory causes appear to be (1) inaccuracy in the magisterial returns for 1914 and the special action taken in 1915 to ensure that cases reported to the police in the first instance were returned as police cases and (2) the hard times and financial stringency which have made would-be litigants less prone to appeal to the Courts for redress in trivial cases than in times of plenty. As regards (1) it may be stated that, subsequent to the submission of the review for 1914, it was discovered that, through carelessness in the preparation of the returns, a considerable number of cases had been shown twice over, i.e., both under the head of cases reported to magistrates and that of cases reported to the police. As a result, very strict orders were issued to prevent a recurrence of such carelessness and to ensure that all cases, reported to the police, in the first instance, should be returned as police cases.

- 49. As regards (2) it may be pointed out that it is common experience that, in times of pestilence or scarcity, litigation is less frequently resorted to by the public than in years of peace and plenty, and the figures in the statement given in paragraph 45 show that the fall in cases reported to magistrates extends equally to non-cognizable and cognizable offences.
- 50. The variations in the different classes of crime, taking cases reported to police officers and magisterial cases together, are numerically greatest in class II (serious offences against the person), class III (serious offences against person and property or property only), class V (minor offences against property) and class VI (miscellaneous offences). The decrease in class VI has been explained above, and it is only necessary to add regarding it that, for years past, the extraordinarily large number of prosecutions, instituted for offences against sanitary laws, has been specially commented on in the review of the Administration Report, and the decrease in such prosecutions is not altogether undesirable.
- 51. In only classes III and V has there been any increase and, in the case of class V, that increase is confined to cases reported to the police. The reason for it has also been noted above.
- 52. The total incidence of reported crime works out at 81.9 per 10,000 of population for 1915 as against 106.6 for 1914. These high figures are chiefly due to the very large number of prosecutions for offences against the sanitary laws which are included in the returns. If such offences be eliminated the total incidence falls to 47.28 for the year under review and to 53.69 for the preceding year.
- 53. In the United Provinces the total incidence of reported crime was 33.5 for 1913 and 36.5 for 1914 (the two last years for which statistics are available) and, if prosecutions for offences against sanitary laws are eliminated, those figures fall to 29.0 and 31.3 respectively.
- 54. These statistics prove, yet once again, how relatively heavy the incidence of crime is in Ajmer-Merwara when compared with the United Provinces. This is attributable, as mentioned in previous reviews, to the proportionately large urban population of the district and the immediate proximity of several states with very primitive police arrangements.
- 55. Cases of non-cognizable crime totalled 3,914 in 1915 as compared with 4,315 in the preceding year. This decrease is chiefly due to a falling off in prosecutions for offences against Municipal Regulations and under the Hackney Carriage Act.

Police Cases—All Classes.

- 56. Reports of cognizable offences laid to the police during 1915 aggregated 3,679, compared with 3,417 in the preceding year. The increase falls entirely among cases of class III and class V and is, as already stated, due to the economic conditions of Ajmer-Merwara during 1915.
- 57. Investigation was refused in 525 cases as against 432 in 1914. Though a considerably larger percentage of reports are investigated by the police in this district than is the case in the United Provinces, the Superintendent expresses it as his opinion that his subordinates are still inclined to abuse the discretion granted to them by section 157(b) of the Criminal Procedure Code and mentions that no less than 88 of the cases investigated during the year were enquired into by his special order after his subordinates had declined to undertake any enquiry.

- 58. Careful supervision of the work of investigating officers will always result in a few such cases coming to light but, as a whole, the discretion referred to above appears to be exercised judiciously in this district and inspections of police stations have revealed little to which exception had to be taken, in this respect.
- 59. The total number of cases decided during the year under review was 2,395 compared with 2,350 in the preceding year. The percentage—convicted to tried out (96)—was the same for both years. Of true cases investigated (including those brought forward from previous years but excluding cases still pending at the close of the year) 74 per cent. ended in conviction as against 77 in the year 1914. Of persons arrested in those cases (including those pending from previous years but excluding those under arrest at the close of the year) 2,649, or 92 per cent., were convicted in 1915 compared with 2,573, or 91 per cent., in the preceding year. These extraordinarily high figures are, as pointed out in previous reviews, the result of the large proportion of sanitary offences to the whole crime return, conviction being assured in practically all cases of that class. If those cases are omitted, the percentage of cases convicted to investigated falls to 46 for each of the two years under notice, and the percentage of persons convicted to persons whose cases were tried out to 83 for the year 1915 and 70 for the preceding year:
- 60. These figures show that with a considerable increase in investigating work, there has been no falling off in the percentage of cases convicted, while the percentage of persons convicted to persons whose cases were tried out has, especially in the more serious cases, improved in a marked manner. In the United Provinces, the percentage of cases convicted to cases investigated by the police stood at only 38.8 for 1914 and that of persons convicted in police cases to persons arrested by the police at 77.1. Taking into consideration, therefore, the high incidence of crime in Ajmer-Merwara and the very large proportion of investigations to reports the Superintendent seems fully justified in expressing satisfaction at the result of police action as a whole in dealing with the reported crime of Ajmer-Merwara.
- 61. The number of cases reported to the police, which were ultimately struck off the registers as false, rose from 29 to 63, and the number removed as due to mistakes of law or fact or because they were declared non-cognizable fell from 24 to 11. No special reason is adduced for this increase and it is probably chiefly due to better investigating work as it is noticeable that in no less than 17 of these cases were prosecutions under section 182, Indian Penal Code, instituted all but two of which proved successful.

Class I.—Offences against the State, Public Tranquillity, Safety and Justice.

- 62. The number of true cases in this class, for disposal during 1915, was 13. All of them came before the Courts, 12 ending in conviction and 1 in acquittal. The case which ended in acquittal was one in which certain persons were alleged to have attempted to seduce a number of Army recruits from their allegiance to their King. The Court gave them the benefit of the doubt, as it was proved that the recruits were, to a certain extent, under the influence of liquor when this occurred and differed among themselves as to what actually had been said.
- 63. Only two true offences against coin were reported in the year. One of these was of a petty character, but the other deserves more than passing notice. In that case, owing to complaints of the number of base coins in circulation in Ajmer, a special watch was kept on persons suspected of counterfeiting coins with the result that the Superintendent received reliable information that implements for the manufacture of coin were in the house of one Ghulam Mahommed. He at once obtained a search-warrant and, accompained by Inspector Bhagwan Singh and other officers, raided this man's house and recovered an exceptionally well executed die, a coining press and a quantity of coining implements. Ghulam Mahommed was sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for seven years and this successful prosecution is said to have driven several suspected coiners away from Ajmer.

64. Five cases of escape from custody were reported during the year, all of which ended in conviction. The most important was the escape of two desperate characters from jail. These men managed to arm themselves with spears and retired to the hills which surround Ajmer. An alarm was raised and a pursuit organised by the police who, assisted by a detachment of the 44th Merwara Infantry, eventually rounded up these convicts but not before they had injured, a sepoy of the 44th and a police constable. They were sentenced to one year and nine months additional imprisonment, respectively, for this offence. In only one instance did the escape occur from police custody, the man responsible for it being a Railway police constable. The absconder was re-arrested at Ladpura railway station the following evening and convicted: The constable in fault was dismissed and should, I considered, have been prosecuted in a Court of law though, as he had already left the district before the record of the case reached me, I did not think it advisable to institute judicial proceedings against him at that time.

Class II.—Serious offences against the person.

- 65. One hundred and thirteen true cases of this class were dealt with in 1915, as against 125 in the preceding year. Sixty-one of those cases came before the Courts (exclusive of 19 which were ultimately compounded) and 43 ended in conviction, while 11 were acquitted and 7 were still pending trial at the close of the year.
- 66. The number of murders reported in the year under notice was nine compared with twelve in the preceding year. Only five of those cases were worked out, two of which were still pending disposal at the close of 1915. Two cases were convicted in the Court of Session, but one of those convictions was upset on appeal. The remaining case was acquitted. The police have not been successful in dealing with this very serious form of crime during 1915, but most of the cases were intricate ones in which little direct evidence was forthcoming.
- 67. In two cases, in which women were believed to have been murdered, the corpse was never recovered, and in four other cases no information was given to the police till after the bodies of the victims had been retrieved from wells in a state of putrefaction some days after the murder had been committed. None of the cases exhibited any special features or call for detailed comment.
- 68. The only other form of crime in this class which calls for special notice is returned under serial No. 21 (kidnapping, etc.). Including 4 brought forward from 1914, the number of cases for disposal totalled 18 in 1915, as against 17 in the year 1914. Once again the police have been unsuccessful in coping with cases of kidnapping, only 9 of them reaching the Courts, of which number 5 were convicted, 2 acquitted and 2 still perding at the close of the year.
- 69. In consequence of the kidnapping scare which occurred in Ajmer in 1913, and the large number of cases which have been reported ever since then, special instructions were issued in 1915 for the Superintendent to keep a careful watch on occurrences of this nature. As a result he has reported that five of these crimes occurred in Ajmer early in the year and were cases falling under section 369, Indian Penal Code, in which children were enticed away from the vicinity of their homes and were let loose after ornaments which they were wearing had been taken from them. Several other cases were, too, merely technical offences and he is satisfied that no professional trafficing in minors exists in Ajmer-Merwara, and that the increase in cases of kidnapping need cause no apprehension.

Class III.—Serious offences against person and property or against property only.

- 70. The total number of true cases of this class, dealt with in 1915, was 727 compared with 555 in the preceding year. Of these cases, 415 were investigated and, of 97 which were sent up for trial, 79 ended in conviction and 13 in acquittal, while 5 were still pending at the close of the year.
- 71. Seven cases of dakaiti were reported in 1915, as against 3 in 1914 and 4 in 1913. The increase is to be regretted, but is partly due to three petty dakaitis which occurred on the Deolia road on July 7th, being shown as separate cases whereas, though this is technically correct, it is customary in Rajputana to show them as all part of one occurrence.
- 72. It is satisfactory to note that once again not a single house dakaiti occurred in this district during the year and the relative unimportance of these cases is shown by the fact that the value of the property obtained by the dakaits aggregated only Rs. 84 for the 7 cases.
- 73. The only case in which ary clue was obtained was a dakaiti which occurred in the Pisangan circle on May 9th, 1915. The victim of that crime was a Darogha of Pushkar who was assaulted by some 10 men, who robbed him of a camel and some ornaments just inside the borders of Ajmer-Merwara and bolted into Marwar territory as soon as they had looted him. For almost three months the enquiry into this case dragged on without any clue being found. One Rawat Singh, a well-known dakait leader, was then arrested in Marwar, confessed to having taken part in this dakaiti and gave the names of his confederates. Later on, three of those dakaits were arrested in Sikar and still later, another of the gang was arrested in Marwar. They were all identified by the complainant or other witnesses and extradition was applied for but had not been granted up to the close of 1915.
- 74. The other cases remained entirely undetected. In no case do the dakaits appear to have carried, much less used, firearms.
- 75. True cases of robbery, dealt with in 1915, numbered 30 compared with 24 for 1914. It is satisfactory to note that a considerable measure of success was met with in dealing with this form of crime in the year under notice, as no less than 11 of those cases came before the Courts, 9 ending in conviction and 1 being still under trial at the close of 1915. In the preceding year only six such cases reached the Courts and 4 were convicted. The greater portion of these were petty robberies committed on solitary travellers on unfrequented village tracks, either at nightfall or in the early hours of the morning, the robbers seldom numbering more than two and the value- of the property stolen usually amounting to only a few rupees.
 - 76. The most serious cases were the following:-
 - (1) Some women returning to their homes in Beawar from the Railway-station, about 8 p. m. on the 10th May, were suddenly stopped by six men, one of whom tried to snatch some ornament from the person of Musammat Mariam. The women raised an outcry and themselves succeeded in capturing two of the would-be robbers, but the remainder escaped before assistance arrived. The case was originally treated as an attempt at dakaiti, and four persons were sent up for trial. The Additional Judge held, however, that the offence was proved against one man only, and convicting him under section 393, Indian Penal Code, sentenced him to 3 years' rigorous imprisonment.
 - (2) The Head-constable in charge of the Harmara out-post received private information, on February 10th, that a cart had been held up on or about January 19th between Harmara and the Kishengarh border, and ornaments valued at Rs. 458 had been taken from a woman travelling in that cart. Enquiry showed that the robbers were mounted on camels and talked Sheikhawati. Certain suspected persons were shown to the complainant, but she was unable to identify any of them and the case ultimately remained undetected.

- (3) On October 20th a serious offence occurred at Bandanwara where some persons were robbed of property valued at Rs. 762. The perpetrators of this crime were three persons in the guise of Sadhus who had been staying in the vicinity for some days and were looked on by the villagers as holy men. The police enquiry showed that they were really Bauriahs in disguise; but neither they nor the missing property could be traced, and the case remained undetected.
- (4) Another rather serious case was one which occurred in the Bhinai circle in February. The victim was a Mahajan who was held up and robbed of property valued at Rs. 354 as he was travelling by cart from Nasirabad to Khumaria. He declared that he had recognised one of his assailants as a Sansi of Kitab village, named Choga. The police enquiry showed that this robbery was undoubtedly the work of two well-known Sansis, Choga and Motira, the latter of whom was suspected to have absconded into the Jodhpur State. Motira was ultimately arrested by the Marwar police, was identified by the complainant and sent up for trial in this case. He was acquitted, however, as the Court found the identification proceedings held in Marwar to be unsatisfactory, and that the first report contained no mention of his name. Choga Sansi has not yet been arrested, but his name figures on the register of absconded offenders, and the case against him seems to be a strong one.
- (5) Another somewhat serious case was one which occurred in the Nasirabad circle on April 6th. The victim of this robbery was a Mahajan proceeding to Jaipur by cart to purchase cotton, who was robbed of Rs. 400 in cash. This robbery too was suspected to be the work of the criminals named in (4), but the complainant was unable to identify his assailants: and the case remained undetected.
- (6) A second rather serious case, which occurred close to Harmara on the Kishengarh border, was one in which two men held up a bullock-cart and carried off property valued at Rs. 120. This occurred in broad daylight, and the complainants gave chase calling loudly for assistance. Ultimately the robbers were brought to bay by some villagers working in the fields and were secured after a struggle, all but Rs. 26 of the stolen property being found on heir persons. They proved to be Khaimkhanis of Marwar and were sentenced to 18 months' rigorous imprisonment each.
- (7) Another somewhat important case which ended in conviction was one in which two women were robbed of ornaments valued at Rs. 48 on July 3rd when travelling from Rajpura to Bandanwara. The crime was ultimately brought home to a Rawat and a Balai who had been working in the vicinity, one of whom was sentenced to two years' rigorous imprisonment and Rs. 30 fine and the other to 16 months' rigorous imprisonment and Rs. 50 fine.
- 77. The only other form of crime included in this class deserving of special notice is that called "burglary or housebreaking."
- 78. The total number of true cases of that kind dealt with in 1915 was 684, compared with 518 in the previous year. The number investigated rose from 278 to 374, and this increase was due to the careful watch maintained over the investigating work by the Superintendent, as experience has shown that it is cases of this class, the hardest to trace out as a rule, that indolent police officers shirk enquiring into.
- 79. Though the number of cases sent up for trial in 1915 was 82 compared with 66 in the preceding year, and the number prosecuted to conviction up to the close of the year rose from 57 to 69, the percentage of convictions to reports once again shows a slight falling off, and the proportion of cases convicted both to cases investigated and cases tried out is considerably lower than in 1914.

- 80. These results are not gratifying, and it must be mentioned that there has also been a considerable falling off in cases of burglary worked out under section 411, Indian Penal Code. The Superintendent would shift much of the responsibility for this from the shoulders of the investigating officer to those of the beat constable, but this hardly seems a sound principle: and the main cause of the small success met with in such cases is, no doubt, the ease with which criminals in the surrounding States escape surveillance and the inexperience of many members of the investigating staff.
- 81. Once again few, if any, of these cases were of much importance; but the following are of some local interest:—
 - (1) On September 10th the house of a Mahajan of Ajmer was broken into, and property valued at Rs. 1,340 was carried off. The police enquiry showed that there was reason to suspect that one Banna, an ex-convict recently released from jail, had participated in this crime, and he was arrested two days later with practically the whole of the stolen property in his possession. On being sent up for trial, he was convicted and sentenced to 5 years' rigorous imprisonment.
 - (2) Towards the end of September an alarming outbreak of burglaries occurred in Beawar. For sometime no clue could be obtained to the perpetrators of these crimes; but, towards the end of October, a notorious railway-thief of the United Provinces was arrested and, in the course of the enquiry which followed, it was ascertained that he and certain confederates had rented a house in Beawar early in September and were responsible for this outbreak. Part of the property they had obtained was recovered, but most of it had already been disposed of. This man and one of his confederates were duly convicted.
 - (3) On the night of November 17th a dangerous gang of burglars who hailed from the Rampur State was found trying to break into a house. A sharp encounter ensued in the course of which a constable was seriously injured with a knife, but ultimately 3 of the gang were arrested. They were convicted and sentenced to one year's rigorous imprisonment each under section 457, Indian Penal Code, the burglar who wounded the constable receiving an additional punishment of 2 years' rigorous imprisonment under section 326, Indian Penal Code.
 - (4) On December 4th two desperate characters were arrested by the Assistant Commissioner with the help of the city Inspector, as they were breaking into a house in Ajmer city. They had numerous previous convictions on record against them and, on conviction, were sentenced to 7 years' rigorous imprisonment each under sections 457/75, Indian Penal Code.

Class IV.—Minor offences against the person.

S2. Eight true cases of this class were dealt with in 1915 compared with 11 in the preceding year. Three ended in conviction, one in acquittal and all the remaining four cases were compounded. None of them were of any importance or special interest.

Class V .- Minor offences against property.

83. Excluding cases subsequently struck off the register, there were 997 cases of this class for disposal in 1915, as against 561 in the year 1914. All but 211 of these cases were investigated, with the result that 451 came before the Court for trial, 400 being convicted and 37 acquitted, while 14 were still pending at the close of the year.

- 84. Cases of cattle-theft numbered 108 compared with 107 in the preceding year. The Superintendent attributes the high figure of such offences, which has been reached for the second year in succession, to the fact that in times of scarcity of fodder, the poor classes turn their cattle loose to graze on the countryside, and cattle-thieves steal them for the value of their skins. This is, no doubt, true; but many of the thefts in Merwara are also, in such circumstances, committed for the sake of the flesh.
- 85. There was slightly more success in dealing with this form of crime in 1915 than in the preceding year. The number of cases in which cattle-lifters were convicted rose from 27 to 33, and 12 receivers of stolen cattle were convicted in 1915 compared with 13 in the preceding year.
- 86. The number of unrecovered strays rose from 161 to 211, and the percentage of recoveries to losses fell from 61 to 51. As remarked by the Superintendent, however, most of the cattle that strayed towards the close of the year must have perished of hunger.
- 87. All things considered the work under this head has been fairly satisfactory during the year, and it would no doubt improve if, when cattle are lost, the owners could be induced to invoke the aid of the police without delay.
- 88. True cases of ordinary theft, dealt with in 1915, numbered 705 as against 567 in the year 1914. The number of cases into which no enquiry was made rose from 181 to 206 and the number of cases sent up for trial from 198 to 268. Of cases tried out, 250 ended in conviction and 17 in acquittal during 1915 as compared with 185 and 11, respectively, in the preceding year. These figures show that the police have successfully coped with the increase in offences of this kind during 1915. None of these cases call for special mention.
- 89. Under serial 37 (cheating) a case of considerable interest figures, the details of which are as under:—

On January 23rd, a man who represented himself to be Subedar Ram Singh, Assistant Recruiting Officer, Rajputana, appeared at the Delhi branch of the Alliance Bank of Simla and presented a draft for Rs. 10,000 purporting to be signed by the Agent of the Ajmer branch of the Bank. At about the same time a telegram was received by the Agent of the Delhi branch requesting that the draft presented by Subedar Ram Singh might be honoured at once. This wire had issued in the name of Captain Seaton, Recruiting Officer, Ajmer.

Owing to the large sum of money involved, the Bank officials requested the "Subedar" to produce his credentials before they would consent to make payment. The "Subedar" went off and returned shortly after with a letter bearing Captain Seaton's signature. The Agent suspected that this letter was a forgery and, being aware that Captain Seaton was fortunately in Delhi on that date, told "Ram Singh" he must bring Captain Seaton in person to the bank to vouch for him. The presenter of the draft went off ostensibly to bring Captain Seaton, but did not return, and the matter was reported to the police. It was at once ascertained that the draft which had been presented at the Bank was a forgery, and that Subedar Ram Singh had been impersonated by some daring swindler. An enquiry, very intelligently conducted by Inspector Bhagwan Singh, resulted in the offence being brought home to certain persons of Ajmer, one of whom was made approver while two others were convicted, one of them being a daftri in the Rajputana-Malwa Railway Carriage workshops and the other, a peon employed in the Telegraph Office at-Ajmer. They were convicted under sections 420/511/109, 4:11-109 and 467 of the Indian Penal Code and section 29 of Act XIII of 1885, and sentenced to terms aggregating 14 years' rigorous imprisonment each.

The Directors of the Bank, in grateful appreciation of the services rendered to them by the police in this matter, sanctioned a reward of Rs. 420 which was distributed among the officers chiefly responsible for the detection and successful termination of this case.

90. No other cases falling in this class call for special mention.

Class VI. - Other offences not specified above.

- 91. The number of true cases of this class dealt with in 1915 was 1,810 as against 1,847 in the preceding year. The number prosecuted to conviction was 1,762 compared with 1,795. The falling off is chiefly, in cases of public nuisance, the least important form of offence with which the police have to deal.
- 92. Sixty-four prosecutions for vagrancy and bad-livelihood were dealt with in the year under notice, as against 51 in the preceding year. Sixty-three of these cases came before the Courts for trial, with the result that 53 ended in conviction and 8 in acquittal, while 2 were still pending at the close of the year.
- Procedure Code, but two of those cases were still pending at the close of 1915 and only 10 ended in conviction. Six of the persons successfully prosecuted under that section are said to have been well known railway-thieves against whom there were many complaints, and all but four of the men proceeded against were previously-convicted offenders, and either figured on the surveillance register or were persons whose history-sheets had been prepared. The average security demanded from those persons amounted to Rs. 180 and the alternate punishment was one year's imprisonment. Five of them furnished security and the remainder went to jail in default. The remaining 49 prosecutions were for vagrancy and fell under section 109 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Forty-three of them proved successful, and only 13 of those persons were able to furnish security; the remaining 30 going to jail in default. In those cases the average security demanded amounted to practically Rs. 88 and the alternative period of imprisonment to approximately $7\frac{1}{2}$ months.
- 94. The police have shown considerable activity in instituting such prosecutions during the year and the results, as a whole, are good.
- 95. The Superinten lent's report shows that this is the result of the great attention he has given to this matter personally, and he is to be congratulated on the successful prosecution of more bad-characters under section 110 of the Criminal Procedure Code than any of his predecessors have, of recent years, managed to effect.
- 96. Prosecutions under the Excise and Opium Acts rose from 48 to 55. Fifty-one of these cases ended in conviction, three were acquitted and one was still pending at the close of the year.
- 97. It is satisfactory to find that the police have, yet once again, rendered valuable assistance to the excise department, and the fact that, during each of the last two years, they have been granted rewards, aggregating over Rs. 500, for their services in such cases, shows that the assistance so rendered has been fully acknowledged. At the same time, no very important captures were made by them in 1915.
- 98. Offences against the Gambling Act have also received considerably more attention in 1915 than in the two preceding years. Prosecutions rose from 20 to 32, and all but one of them proved successful. In commenting on these cases the Superintendent has drawn special attention to the number of lotteries which have hitherto been held in Ajmer city, stating that, though these lotteries were controlled from Jodhpur, no less than 300 agencies existed in Ajmer and sums exceeding Rs. 20,000 in value frequently changed hands in a single day. Since the close of 1915 the persons controlling those lotteries are said to have been turned out of Jodhpur, but it is believed that they have merely changed their headquarters to Sikar, and that their operations have not so far been affected. The Superintendent is taking steps in the matter, and it is hoped that this form of gambling will shortly be put a stop to.
- 99. The only other case in this class which calls for special mention is that under the Defence of India Act. The case in question refers to the internment of Thakur Gopal Sing of Kharwa and his disregard of the order by which he was interned which resulted in his being sentenced to two years' imprisonment. His dramatic flight and ultimate capture in the Kishengarh State are too well known to need recapitulation here.

Property stolen and recovered.

100. The total value of the property stolen in the year 1915 was computed at Rs. 56,521 as against Rs. 86,202 in the preceding year. Recoveries were valued at Rs. 19,184, giving a percentage of 34 on total losses. This percentage is the same as that for 1914 and may be looked on as fairly satisfactory. As mentioned in previous reports, however, so many factors have to be taken into consideration before any accurate decision can be arrived at as to the comparative value of the work done each year under this head that it is undesirable to lay much stress on variations in the figures.

Identification by means of finger impression slips.

101. The finger impression slips of 204 persons were sent to the Bureau for search in 1915 as compared with 136 in 1914. Sixty-three of those slips resulted in the identity of previously convicted offenders being established, a far higher figure than in any previous year. As the question of this method of identification will be discussed fully elsewhere, it is unnecessary to add more regarding it at this point.

Absconded offenders.

102. The names of 53 absconders figured on the register of proclaimed offenders at the commencement of 1915. Twenty-nine fresh names were added during the year, bringing the total for disposal up to 82. Of this number, twelve were apprehended and the names of five others were expunged under the rules, leaving 65 names on the register at the close of 1915. The number of absconders arrested is the same as for 1914, but it includes several persons who had been absconding for some years notably two absconders of 1910 and one each of 1911, 1912 and 1913. At the same time the number of absconded offenders is increasing very rapidly and, as many of them are required for comparatively petty offences, circle-inspectors and station officers should be able to encompass the arrest of a larger proportion than they have accounted for, hitherto, if they really gave this important subject the attention it deserves. Special orders have recently been issued on this subject which will, it is hoped, prove effective.

Surveillance over persons whose history-sheets have been prepared.

103. The number of persons whose history-sheets were under preparation at the close of 1915 was 403, and the number of history-sheets opened during the year was 72, making a total of 475. One hundred and twenty-eight of these sheets were closed during the year, either because the persons concerned were found to have returned to honest livelihood, had emigrated or had died. The closing balance for 1915 was, therefore, 347. Thirty-three of these sheets refer to persons who were re-convicted during the year, while ninety-six are the history-sheets of persons whose names figure on the surveillance register.

104. The Superintendent refers to a lack of discrimination which, he says, has been shown of recent years in starting some of these history-spects and it is, of course, very desirable that that officer should himself invariably scrutinize the past carper of all suspects before ordering their history-sheets to be opened. At the same time, considering the size of the district, the number maintained is not excessive and cases where a lack of discrimination has been shown such as those quoted by the Superintendent are not the rule but the exception.

Co-operation with the police of Native States.

105. It is satisfactory to find that the Superintendent of Police records that relations with the police of surrounding States were very cordial throughout the year. He particularly mentions the Jodhpur State as one which has given valuable assistance, and this is the more satisfactory in that his predecessor recorded that he found relations with the police of that State the reverse of satisfactory. As he mentions in his report, an interesting experiment was made in 1915 in that, at the request of the authorities concerned, three police officers of the Shahpura chiefship and two of the Kishengarh State were atached to the Ajmer-Merwara police for training. This experiment is said to have been a complete success and undoubtedly tended to more harmonious working: as it cleared away various mutual misunderstandings. He suggests that the system might be extended to other adjoining States, but it is to be feared that the Jaipur, Udaipur and Bundi Darbars are unlikely to agree to the introduction of any such system, so far as their police forces are concerned, and it is unnecessary in the case of Marwar.

Strength and cost of the police.

- 106. The only change in the sanctioned strength of this force during 1915 was the abolition of the plague guard consisting of four constables.
- 107. The actual cost to Government was Rs. 2,11,191 as against Rs. 2,11,835 in the preceding year. This decrease is too small to need any special explanation.

Rewards and punishments.

- 108. Three hundred and seventy members of the Ajmer-Merwara police were rewarded in 1915 compared with 263 in the preceding year. The total amount paid to them, in reward, from all sources was Rs. 3,776, compared with Rs. 2,831 in the year 1914. Rewards paid for meritorious service in ordinary police cases increased by Rs. 172, but, even so, totalled considerably less than half the full amount paid in rewards. There was little or no variation in the amounts paid as rewards for the detection of breaches of the Opium and Excise laws and of offences against the Gambling Act, but rewards received from private persons (which formed more than one-third of the whole sum paid) rose from Rs. 610 to Rs. 1,290.
- 109. Rewards paid to the police by private persons have increased enormously in the last two years, and a recent scrutiny of these figures revealed the fact that some three-fifths of the total amount paid in rewards in 1915 had been granted to Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors, and that all but Rs. 330 of that amount had been obtained from private individuals. These figures were, of course, swelled by the substantial reward presented by the Alliance Bank of Simla to which reference has been made in paragraph 89 of this report, but there has been more than one case in which the rewards paid to the police were considerably heavier than the circumstances justified, and the matter is receiving attention.
- 110. Steps have now been taken to ensure that the rules regulating the grant of rewards from budget heads are observed in the case of rewards paid by private individuals also, and this should prevent any unfortunate consequences arising from the too-free bestowal of rewards obtained from private individuals.
- 111. The total number of punishments inflicted on members of the force in 1915 was 19, as compared with 37 in the previous year. This figure includes 5 judicial punishments, 6 dismissals and 8 other departmental punishments. The judicial punishments include one conviction under the Police Act, two under section 409, one under sections 342/379 and one under section 323 of the Indian Penal Code. Dismissal followed the judicial punishment in all but the last case.
- 112. The departmental punishments include the reversion of officiating Inspector Mahammad Ismail to the rank of Sub-Inspector for proved incompetence, and the reduction of Sub-Inspector Ram Chander for misconduct while Station officer at Pisangan. In view of the fact that the punishment-roll for 1914 was the lightest for five years, the great decrease in punishments inflicted in 1915 is remarkable.
- 113. The result has, whether or not these are the true causes, been very beneficial as not only has better work been done in 1915 than in the previous year, but discipline also has undoubtedly improved.

Health of the force and casualties.

111 The health of the force was better in 1915 than in the preceding year. Deaths decreased from 12 to 6 and admissions to hospital from 52.21 to 22.26 per cent.

115. The following casualties occurred in 1915:--

(1)	Pension o	r grat	uity	•	ı						3
(2)	Resignation	on wi	thout	pensi	on or	gratui	ty		•		87
(3)	Dismissal			- .		•	٠,		•		7
(4)	Discharge	othe	r thai	roda r	ve .		•	•	•	•	25
(5)	Desertion		•				•	•		•	10
(6)	Deaths	•	•	•	•	:	•	•	•	•	6

- 116. Casualties totalled 122 in the year 1914 and 166 in 1913. A scrutiny of the figures for 1915 and of those of the preceding year shows that casualties owing to pension and gratuity declined from 25 to 3 and dismissals and deaths decreased from 14 and 12 to 7 and 6, respectively.
- 117. On the other hand, resignations rose from 60 to 87 and the number of men discharged as unlikely to prove useful policemen increased from 3 to 25. Desertions, too, numbered 10 compared with 8 in the preceding year.
- 118. The reason for this increase in resignations, etc., is to be found in the fact that no less than 208 recruits were enlisted in 1915, as against 98 in the preceding year. Recruiting was greatly stimulated by the failure of the monsoon, and the high grain rates, but Mr. Hollins undoubtedly gave the question of obtaining recruits more attention than it had received for some years and can certainly claim a part of the credit for the marked improvement which has taken place in respect to recruiting.

General Rewarks.

- 119. There has undoubtedly been an improvement in the work of the Ajmer-Merwara police during the year in spite of the fact that 1915 was a most unfavourable year from a police point of view.
- 120. Mr. Hollins set himself immediately on his arrival to acquire a thorough knowledge of his subordinates and of the general conditions of Ajmer-Merwara from a police point of view and speedily succeeded in obtaining the confidence of his subordinates and the respect of all the officials with whom he had to work. It is to be regretted that, since the close of 1915, he has had to be transferred to take up a special appointment in the Tonk State, but the post he has gone to occupy is a very important one.
- 121. No cases of torture by the police occurred during 1915 and no women were found guilty of murdering their children.
- 122. All police-stations were inspected by either the Superintendent or his Assistant during the tour-season of 1915-16 except Pushkar, which has since been inspected. There was no repetition of the neglect of Circle-Inspectors to make proper inspections of the stations in their jurisdictions, to which reference was made in the annual report for 1914, and after an example had been made of one of those officers, their work improved considerably and has been quite satisfactory.
- 123. The building programme for this district had to be revised owing to the necessity for strict economy at the present time, but the new police-station at Beawar was taken in hand and is nearing completion, extensive additions were made to the Deoli outpost and numerous other projects of a less ambitious nature were carried through. Proposals for the construction of new police lines at Ajmer and for the conversion of the existing lines into a Kotwali were once again taken up during the year, and it is hoped that this project will receive administrative sanction shortly though it will probably be some years before funds will be forthcoming with which to give practical effect to that scheme. As the Superintendent has recorded in his report, however, the Ajmer-Merwara police have of recent years, as a whole, received very liberal treatment, so far as accommodation at police-stations and outposts is concerned: and after this project has been given effect to, the new police-station for Nasirabad has been completed and the office of the Superintendent improved, few important projects will remain to be taken in hand.

- 124. It is satisfactory to find that there was continuity of charge in all police-stations excepting Bhinai and Todgarh, and that transfers have been far less numerous in every way than in 1914 and 1913.
- 125. The education and training of men at headquarters received special attention during 1915, and the drill improved very considerably. Recruits are now examined personally by the Superintendent, as regards their knowledge of both drill and procedure, before they are passed out of the Reserve, and the Assistant Superintendent is himself responsible for a large part of their training. No less than 4 officers and 34 constables qualified in "First aid to the injured" during the year.
- 126. The question of raising the pay of constables, providing a few bicycle orderlies and improving the prospects of the Superintendent's office establishment is still under the consideration of the Government of India. These reforms are urgently required.

The number disposed of without trial was 2,127 and 110 suits were transferred to other Courts. The pending file at the close of the year was 1,033 as compared with 1,141 in the preceding year, and of the former 366 had been pending for more than three months.
- 144. The average duration of the contested suits was 138.2 days and that of the uncontested suits 65.7.
- 145. On the appellate side, there were 556 appeals from the decrees and orders and the pending file at the close of the year was 188 against 201 in the preceding year. The average duration of appeals was 134.6 days as against 139.4.
- 146. The number of applications for execution of decrees was 13,816 against 12,527. The number pending at the close of the year was 1,883 as compared with 1,893.

In 13 cases the judgments of the Lower Courts were confirmed, in 11 they were modified, in 34 they were reversed and in 16 further inquiry was directed to be made.
 - (4) REGISTRATION (YEAR ENDING THE 31ST DECEMBER, 1915).

Vide Statement No. 25.

- 147. There was no change in the number of officers and strength of staff throughout the year, except that 3 temporary hands were entertained for about 3 months to dispose of arrears in the Ajmer Sub-Registrar's office.
- 148. The total number of documents of all classes presented for registration during the year under report was 2,772 as against 3,099 in the preceding year or less by about one-tenth. The decrease chiefly appertains to the Sub-Registrar's Office, Todgarh, which circle was greatly affected by the Land Alienation Regulation introduced in the year 1914.
- 149. Of the total number of documents presented for registration 1,891 documents or 68:21 per cent. were registered in the Ajmer Sub-Registry as against 61:21 and 45:56 in the two preceding years.
- 150. The area of agricultural land transferred by sale during the year was 2,269 bighas as compared with 2,585 bighas in 1914, the decrease being due to the introduction of the Land Alienation Regulation.
- 151. The area of agricultural land mortgaged was 4,277 bighas as compared with 3,141 bighas in the preceding year. This increase of 1,136 bighas is partly due to the year being a bad one for agriculturists and partly to the substitution of mortgages for sales since the ntroduction of the Land Alienation Regulation.
- 152. The total value of agricultural land sold and mortgaged amounted to Rs. 1,11,515 as against Rs. 2,86,849 in 1914, showing a decrease of 61 per cent.
- 153. The total receipts and expenditure of the year amounted to Rs. 6,218-10-11 and Rs. 2,168-11-10 respectively as compared with Rs. 6,770-12 and Rs. 1,850 respectively in 1914, showing a surplus of about Rs. 4,050. The decrease in fees is due to the decrease in the number of documents registered, whilst the increase in expenditure is attributable to—
 - (1) the entertainment of the additional temporary establishment to which reference has already been made in paragraph 147 of the report;
 - (2) the payment during the year under report of arrears of pay of moharrirs from 15th August 1914.

All the offices of the Sub-Registrars, except Nasirabad, were inspected once each by the Registrar during the year under report. Owing to the irregularity of previous inspections—Deoli in particular appeared not to have been inspected for some thirty years - the work of preparing indices was found badly in arrears in several offices, notably Beawar and Kekri. They are being gradually brought up to date. The work of the Nasirabad office has been consistently good and returns from it are submitted with commendable punctuality. The Ajmer Sub-Registrar's office under Mr. Madan Gopal has shown great improvement.

(5) MUNICIPALITIES (YEAR ENDING THE 31ST MARCH, 1916).

- 154. During the year under report, the constitution of the Ajmer Municipal Committee remained unchanged. It consisted of 23 members, of whom 6 were nominated and 17 elected; two were officials and 21 non-officials, 8 Europeans and 15 Indians.
- 155. The Committee held during the year 32 meetings, of which 16 were special and 16 ordinary. The average attendance at each meeting was 13:24 and 13:80 respectively.
- 156. The total income of the year was Rs. 2,87,557 as against Rs. 5,37,348 in 1914-15. The expenditure amounted to Rs. 3,21,253 as against Rs. 5,49,274 in the previous year, and the closing balance was Rs. 8,513.
- 157. If refunds are excluded, which amounted to Rs. 34,897 in 1914-15 and Rs. 38,105 in 1915-16, the figures for the two years compare as below:—

			1914-15	1915-16	Difference.
			Rs.	$\mathbf{R}\mathbf{s}$.	Rs.
Income .	•	•	5,02,451	2,49,452	-2,52,999
Expenditure			5,14,377	2,83,148	-2,31,229

- 1:8. The decrease in receipts is chiefly due to the fact that the receipts of the previous year were inflated by drawing the balance of Rs. 1,50,000 of the loan of 4 lakhs for the Bhaonta water supply scheme, by a contribution of Rs. 37,500 received from the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway as composition in lieu of municipal taxation, and by a grant of a lakh of rupees from the Imperial Government towards the water scheme.
- 159. The decrease in expenditure occurs chiefly under the heads "water supply" and "conservancy" and is due to the absence of large payments during the year in connection with the Bhaonta water supply scheme and the steam tramway, respectively.
- 160. The gross and net receipts from octroi in the two years are shown below:—

1914-15 1915-16	•	•	•	•	•	Rs. 1,82,985 1,90,359	Net. Rs. 1,48,088 1,52,254
						+7,374	+4,166

- 161. The increase of Rs. 7,374 in gross receipts has occurred chiefly under the items "grains," "ghee" and "other articles of food." There is a decrease of Rs. 1,035 under the item "cloth," which is ascribed to the war in Europe.
- 162. As stated above, the total disbursements during the year under report amounted to Rs. 3,21,253 against Rs. 5,49,274 in the previous year.
 - 163. The variations occurred chiefly under the following heads:—

		Heads.								Increase.	Decrease.
Refunds .	•	•	•	•			•	•	•	Rs. 3,208	Rs.
Lighting . Water supply	•	•	•	• 2	•	•	•	•	•	2,311	0.41.051

Repayment of loa	ns	•	•	•	•	•	•	•	•	7,549	5,469 •••

164. The increase under the head "lighting" is due to the changed system by which the cost of lighting of all departments has been charged to this head instead of to respective departments.

165. The increase of Rs. 1,608 under the head "hospitals and dispensaries" is due to heavier charges under the item of "maintenance of lunatics at Lahore."

166. Petty repairs only were executed during the year which accounts for the decrease under the head "buildings."

167. The increase under the head "roads" was caused by the widening of the Srinagar and part of the circular roads.

168. The decrease under the head "public instruction" was apparent only and it is explained that the bills for the last quarter of the year were not received from the Educational Department and paid during the year.

169. The non-payment of grain compensation allowance to the municipal Staff owing to shortage of funds has caused the reduction under the head "Other items."

170. A sum of Rs. 25,019 was paid during the year towards the liquidation of Government loans.

171. The balance of the loan due from the Municipality at the end of the year amounted to Rs. 5,33,892.

172. The incidence of taxation was Re. 1-12-2 per head of the population against Re. 1-11-6 in the preceding year.

173. The management of the Ajmer water works remained in the hands of the Executive Engineer, Public Works Department, Ajmer Division.

174. The total rainfall registered during the year at the following places is as given below:—

(1)	Foysagar .	•	•	•		•	•	•	9.20
(2)	Municipal water work	s godo	ат	•				•	10.60
(3)	Catchment of the Foy	Saga	r.		•				5.52
(4)	Bhaonta water works			•	•	•			6.08

175. The year was one of abnormally scanty rainfall.

176. There are 3 sources of water supply, viz.:—

- (1) the Foy Sagar lake by gravity and pumping,
- (2) the Budha Pushkar lake by pumping, and
- (3) the Bhaonta water works by pumping.

At the first two places, the water levels were respectively 6.96 and 7.21 at the commencement and 7.67 and 11.9 5 at the close of the year. The water level of the Bhaonta well No. 5 on the 1st April, 1915, was 93.80, while on the 31st March, 1916, it was 85.70.

177. The water was pumped from the Foy Sagar from the 1st April, 1915, to the 1st May, 1915, from the 16th October, 1915, to the 23rd October, 1915, and from the 8th March, 1916, to the 31st March, 1916, while during the rest of the year it was supplied by gravity.

178. From the Budha Pushkar, the water was pumped from the 1st May, 1915, to the 10th August, 1915, and again from the 1st March, 1916, to the 31st March, 1916.

179. The Bhaonta water works were brought into regular use on the 1st April, 1915, and worked continuously until the 16th October, 1915, when a week's rest was given and then again continuously until the 7th March, 1916, when it was decided to give the wells a rest to allow the water in the Foy Sagar to be used instead of being wasted by evaporation. The Bhaonta supply has been very successful and has given the minimum of trouble and anxiety.

180. Some alterations were made in the agreement with the Railway at Ajmer for the supply of water, according to which the Municipality will charge the Railway for Foy Sagar water at rates in force for private consumers and will not charge higher rates to the Railway than to private consumers for water from the Bhaonta scheme.

- 181. It is regretted that owing to financial stringency, no provision for a drainage scheme could be made in the Budget estimates.
- 182. The Committee's proposals for the revision of the Ajmer Municipalities Regulation V of 1886 have been recommended to the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioner, Ajmer-Merwara. The case regarding the revision of the rules and bye-laws sent in by the Committee must wait until sanction to the proposed new Regulation has been received.
- 183. A few of the rate-payers are now availing themselves of rule 35 of the octroi rules, which admits of compounding for the octroi tax.
- 184. The Committee have put forward a proposal to take over the Municipal water works under the supervision of a Municipal Engineer on a salary of Rs. 700 per mensem and to invite the Local Government to lend the services of a suitable Engineer for a period of one year. Thereafter the question of a definite appointment and selection would be further considered. The proposed Municipal Engineer in addition to supervising the water works would also be expected to supervise the working of the municipal tramway and generally to assist the Chairman in the executive work of the Municipality. This scheme is now under consideration.
- 185. The Committee's proposal to substitute terminal taxation for the present Octroi tax is also being examined.
- 186. The Committee also contemplate a proposal for lighting a portion of the city and suburbs with electricity, and the Chairman is in correspondence with the Callenders Cable and Construction Company Limited, Bombay, on the subject.
- 187. The number of recorded births was 2,648 against 1,922 in the previous year.
 - 188. The number of recorded deaths rose from 2,873 to 3,085.
- 189. The birth and death rates per mille of population were 30.71 and 35.78 against 22.29 and 33.31 respectively in the preceding year.
- 190. The mortality among children under five years of age was 1,624 (52.64 per cent of the total mortality) against 1,500 in the previous year.
 - 191. One death from cholera and none from small-pox were reported.
- 192. The total number of vaccinations performed in the Ajmer town and suburbs was 4,658 against 3,370 in the previous year. The number of primary vaccinations was 4,411 and of re-vaccinations 247 against 3,270 and 100 respectively last year.
- 193. Most of the unserviceable conservancy rolling stock has been replaced and it is intended to renew such of the conservancy carts as are wornout. But the present number of carts is insufficient to cope fully with the heavy work.
- 194. The scheme for the substitution of moveable galvanised iron latrines and urinals for the existing masonry ones is under consideration. The number requires augmentation to prevent the fouling of streets and lanes, which goes on at present. Most of the privies and urinals in the city and suburbs have been provided with moveable iron receptacles. But improvements to the roads and a more effective supervision over the municipal sweepers are among the most urgent sanitary requirements of the moment. The appointment of a Municipal Engineer may help in this direction. The three incinerators are working satisfactorily and it is proposed to construct more.
- 195. The municipal accounts were test-audited by the Examiner, Local Fund Accounts, United Provinces, during the year and many of his suggestions are being adopted.
 - 196. There was no change in the municipal boundaries during the year.
- 197. The Committee held 21 meetings, of which 12 were special and 9 ordinary as compared with 12 special and 7 ordinary in 1914-15.
- 198. The total income of the year amounted to Rs. 77,765 as against Rs. 65,163 in 1914-15, and the expenditure to Rs. 91,466 as against Rs. 71,256. The closing balance was Rs. 6,764 exclusive of Rs. 10,000 invosted in Government paper.

Beawar Munic pality.

- 199. The apparent increase of Rs. 12,302 in the income is illusory and is due to the fact that the figures for octroi receipts include the refunds, which are also shown on the expenditure side. The figures for the preceding year showed the net receipts then excluding refunds. The net octroi receipts for the year, when compared with those for the previous year, show an actual decrease of Rs. 18,435, which is attributable to the low sale price of cotton to the Mewar Darbar's prohibitive rate on its export to Beawar and to the failure of the monsoon.
- 200. The incidence of octroi taxation on a population of 22,800 was Re. 1-12-6 per head as against Rs. 2-9-3 in the year 1914-15.
- 201. Compared with the previous year, the increase of Rs. 20,210 in expenditure is apparent only and is due to the inclusion of octroi refunds as explained above.
- 202. There was a great scarcity of water during the year under report. Many of the wells in the town and suburbs dried up and the people had to go from 2 to $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles from the town for water. The three wells at Jalia proved insufficient to meet the requirements of the town for the whole year. As suggested by the Superintending Engineer, Rajputana, borings are being made on both sides of the Jalia tank. That in the bed of the tank appears likely to be successful as 9 feet of water were found at a depth of 25 feet. It is proposed to sink a well on the spot and to pump water from it into well No. 3 for supply to the town. The management of the water works was in the hands of the Municipal Board.
- 203. A plan and estimate amounting to Rs. 30,413 for the extension of the pipe line in the town and cantonment are ready, but owing to want of funds the project has had to be postponed.
- 204. The number of births and deaths registered during the year was 1,121 and 1,018 as against 1,130 and 933 in 1914-15.
- 205. The accounts were audited by the Local Fund Audit Department of the United Provinces.
- 203. The changes in the constitution of the Committee during the year Kekri Municiunder report were:—
 - (1) Appointment of Sub-Assistant Surgeon Geta Ram in place of Sub-Assistant Surgeon Chel Behari Lal.
 - (2) Appointment of Sah Chitar Mal in place of Pandit Hari Lal.
- 207. The Committee held 4 ordinary and 9 special meetings during the year.
- 208. The total income and expenditure amounted to Rs. 15,785-9-3 and Rs. 11,805-6-1 as against Rs. 12,451-15-0 and Rs. 12,325-5-10 respectively in the preceding year.
- 209. The increase in receipts was mostly under the head octroi and partly under the heads (1) cattle pounds, (2) interest and (3) miscellaneous.
- 210. The decrease in expenditure mainly occurred under the heads (1) Conservancy, (2) garden and arboriculture and (3) public works (buildings), owing to the fact that certain special works, viz., (1) deepening the nallah leading water from the Chota tank to the Bara tank, (2) construction of a stable for garden bullocks and (3) repairs to city wall were undertaken last year.
- 211. The incidence of octroi taxation was Rs. 2-1-9\frac{1}{4} per head of population against Re. 1-10-4\frac{1}{2} in the year 1914-15.
- 212. The number of births and deaths recorded during the year was 180 and 179 against 199 and 270 respectively in the preceding year.
- 213. The accounts of the Municipality were checked from 28th February, 1916, to 3rd March, 1916, by the Auditor of Local Fund Accounts, United Provinces.
- 214. The balance at the credit of the Municipal Committee at the close of the year rose from Rs. 18,975.6-1 to Rs. 22,956-2-2 including investments of Rs. 7,000.

(6) Medical (year ending the 31st December 1915).

215. There were six Government dispensaries in the Ajmer-Merwara district—the same number as last year. The total number of indoor and outdoor patients treated at these dispensaries during the year under report was 74,084 against 76,942 in the preceding year. There were 4,351 surgical operations of all kinds, of which 1,672 were performed at the Victoria Hospital, Ajmer. The total income of the Ajmer-Merwara dispensaries was Rs. 20,596 and the total expenditure Rs. 19,438 against Rs. 21,519 and Rs. 19,831 respectively in the year 1914.

REVENUE AND FINANCE.

A.-IMPERIAL.

(1) Land and Water Revenue.

259. The year under report which includes the accounts for the rabi harvest of 1322 and the kharif of 1323 Fasli was unfavourable. The average rainfall Season (vide of the year was 8.24 inches, the normal being 21 inches. The outturn of rabi Statement and kharif harvests was very poor.

No. 31).

260. The system of fluctuating assessment in the 46 selected villages has Variable continued to work well.

261. The following table compares the assessment made in 1915-16 with the standard revenue fixed for these villages excluding crop rate, revenue, etc.:-

							STANDARD.		Aés	essment fo. 1915-16.	B.
	Tab	si).		,	Į.	Land revenue.	Water revenue.	Total.	Land revenue.	Water revenue.	Total.

			T	otal	•	18,211	2,571	20,782	10,206	1,042	11,248

262. As compared with the standard there has been an appreciable decrease in the amount assessed, which is due to the fact that the cultivation of the rabi of 1322 Fasli (1915) was restricted and nearly the whole of the dry area failed in kharif 1323 Fasli. Out of the demand of Rs. 11,248 a sum of Rs. 10,214 was recovered during the year, leaving a balance of Rs. 1,034 outstanding at the close of the year.

263. The current demand on accounty of land and water revenue for the Demand and year amounted to Rs. 3,46,246 against Rs. 3,54,253 for the year 1914-15, as collection, etc., detailed below :-

of land and water revenue (vide statement No. 32).

					3,46,246	8,54,253

The reason for the decrease is that both the harvests were bad.

264. Including the arrears of previous years the total demand aggregated Rs. 4,07,820 against Rs. 4,30,258 for the year 1914-15.

265. Out of this demand a sum of Rs. 1,643 on account of rabi 1322 Fasli was remitted in Todgarh Tahsil, but a sum of Rs. 973 only has been accounted for in this year and the remaining amount of Rs. 670 will be accounted for in

266. Including the arrears of previous years the total collections (excluding miscellaneous revenue) amounted to Rs. 2,77,565 against Rs. 3,01,612 in the year 1914-15 as detailed below:-

- 267. This includes a sum of Rs. 151 on account of collections for this year recovered in the previous years, and excludes a sum of Rs. 925 recovered during the year on account of collections for the next year.
- 268. The decrease in collection is due to the fact that a large amount was provisionally remitted on account of failure of last kharif.
- 269. 296. The total issues of country liquor from the Ajmer distillery were 39,991.5 proof gallons as against 45,682.8 proof gallons in 1914-15. The decrease in consumption was due partly to the high prices of food grains and partly to the removal of troops from Ajmer, Nasirabad and Deoli.

297. The still head duty on spirits issued for consumption in urban and rural areas was as follows:—

298. The number of country liquor shops in the district was 117 as against 128 in the preceding year. The license fees for the wholesale and retail vend of foreign spirits and foreign fermented liquor amounted to Rs. 2,241 against Rs. 2,886 in the previous year. The decrease of Rs. 645 is due to the fact that the fees for most of the licenses for the year 1915-16 were collected and credited into the treasury in the year 1914-15. Statistics showing the wholesale and retail vend and consumption of foreign liquors are given in appendices 40-B and 40-C.
- 302. The receipts under opium amounted to Rs. 29,070 against Rs. 29,998 Opium in 1914-15. But there are indications that Japan has taken over the lucrative trade and the price of illicit cocaine which had been as high as Rs. 150 per ounce has now fallen to about Rs. 50 to Rs. 60. In spite of this the sale of this drug has very largely diminished owing to the detection and conviction of several of the important smugglers and the infliction by the City Magistrate of deterrent sentences under the Excise Regulation.
- 310. Under the permits granted by the Collector 2 oz. 13 drs. and 23 grs. of cocaine were imported and 2 lbs. 3 oz. 11 drs. $\frac{21}{32}$ grs. of cocaine were confiscated during the year.

- 314. The increase of Rs. 3,234 in the sale of judicial stamps is due to the institution of a larger number of suits. The decrease in the sale of non-judicial stamps is nominal and calls for no remarks. Rupees 312 were recovered during the year on account of pauper suits.

327. The decrease in receipts is mainly due to the fact that on account of scarcity the Cesses were not recovered in full and the Capitation Tax on the sale of animals at the Pushkar Fair was not levied, the fair having been abandoned on account of scarcity of fodder and water.

- 328. The increase in expenditure is due to larger outlay during 1915-16 on roads and schools and the construction of new Cattle Pounds.
- 329. The Veterinary Dispensary and Shoeing Forge at Ajmer continued to work satisfactorily.
- 330. The bull at Ramsar covered seven cows during the year as against 112 in 1914-15. The decrease is attributed to the fodder searcity during which a large number of cows had emigrated to Malwa and other places for grazing.
- 331. The closing balance of the District Fund on the 31st March, 1916, stood at Rs. 42,762 as compared with Rs. 60,186 on the same date in 1914-15.

Rs. 5,763 in 1914-15, showing an increase of Rs. 2,619, which is due to the fact that the share of Government contribution paid to the Dispensary fund was raised from Rs. 300 to Rs. 1,000 for three years and certain arrears of contributions were recovered.

334. The expenditure was Rs. 9,297 against Rs. 8,519, an increase of Rs. 778 due to increase in demands for medicines and diet.

334-A. The year closed with a cash balance of Rs. 1,115 as detailed below:—

335. The Todgarh dispensary again shows a debit balance of Rs. 1,033 against Rs. 836 last year as the annual voluntary contribution of Rs. 265-8 from certain villages for this dispensary could not be recovered during the year owing to famine.

336. The receipts amounted to Rs. 11,952 as compared with Rs. 11,739 in the year 1914-15. The increase of Rs. 213 is due to the short recovery of contribution from the Istimrardars towards the uniform of chowkidars, during the year 1914-15.

337. The expenditure amounted to Rs. 12,107 as against Rs. 15,740. The decrease is explained by the fact that in the year 1914-15 a sum of Rs. 4,704 was spent on the purchase of Government promissory notes for the fund while none were bought during the year 1915-16.

338. The receipts were Rs. 2,365 as against Rs. 2,588 in 1914-15, Police Chanda showing a decrease of Rs. 223. The expenditure came to Rs. 2,353 as against fund. Rs. 2,718 in 1914-15. The decrease of Rs. 365 is due to the fact that in 1914-1915 two horses were purchased as against one only in 1915-1916.

339. The total receipts amounted to Rs. 57,786 as compared with Nasirabad Rs. 74,874 in 1914-15, the decrease of Rs. 17,088 being due to the inclusion fund. Oantonment of Rs. 8,990 in the last year's figures on account of the Government grant for education purposes and to the income under certain heads having diminished during the year under report owing to famine and reduction of garrison. The expenditure totalled Rs. 66,055 as against Rs. 66,740 in the preceding year. The decrease of Rs. 685 is due to rigid economy necessitated by the reduced receipts. The closing balance at the end of the year was Rs. 18,938.
